TELEMEDICINE

Medical Center – University of Freiburg, Germany

Telemedicine

Enquiring about all possible treatment options is vital prior to making a decision. The Medical Center - University of Freiburg offers an excellent opportunity to receive an additional consultation while eliminating the extra costs of travelling.

You can ask our radiologists to confirm your diagnosis, discuss your treatment options with our senior specialists and, if necessary, prepare your treatment plan in Freiburg while saving on additional examinations and consultations. The Medical Center - University of Freiburg offers the following types of second opinion services:

Teleradiology

Our highly qualified team of radiologists and nuclear medicine specialists evaluate radiological images such as MRI, CT, PET-CT, X-ray or mammography taken in the patient's home country and provide a «second opinion».

The transfer of radiological images is possible:

- over the Internet, directly into the radiological system of our medical center
- via sending your CDs per post

This service includes:

- Evaluation of radiological images within 5 working days
- Written medical report in German

Image evaluation fees:
